With millions of Praises, I humbly bow at the feet of my Lord and Almighty who is a tangential power between zero and infinity for He is my strength, power and His grace has been sufficient for me to complete my PhD thesis successfully.

With profound joy, I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Karunakar Kar., Ph.D., Department of Bioscience and Bioengineering. Right from the inception of my PhD program, he has contributed fruitful ideas based on valuable discussion and has driven me to complete the thesis within the stipulated period. It was he, who trained me, motivated me to pluck the fruit of success and was the 'torch' in all my endeavors and engagements. With a sincere appreciation, I express my thanks to my guide for sharing his immense knowledge, motivation and valuable guidance. At times when my own, light went off, it was rekindled by Dr. S. Prakash, (my undergraduate mentor) and Dr. R. Mala, (my postgraduate mentor). I remember them with gratitude for creating an interest in research and the good words of hope uttered by them at the time of desperation to enhance myself in difficult situations.
