

Acknowledgements

First of all, I am glad to work on this research topic under the supervision of Dr. Satyajit Sahu. He spent his valuable time in minutely nurturing scientific skills and erupt zeal to explore new aspects of science in me. I feel privileged to work under his guidance. His constant support and patience helped me to understand certain aspects of research easily which otherwise seemed difficult.

I am also obliged to the members of the doctoral committee Dr. S. P. Tiwari, Dr. Ambesh Dixit and Dr. Mahesh Kumar for maintaining interdisciplinary research environment between Electrical Engineering and Physics Departments.

I express my sincere gratitude to our research collaborators Dr. Lakshya Daukiya and Dr. Deepa Oberoi and local collaborator Dr. Appala Naidu. Their proficiency, knowledge and valuable suggestions have been of great help during the research work.

I would like to thank my senior Dr. Giriraj Vyas who always treated me like his younger brother and discussed several aspects of technical and non-technical findings. He was the first person with whom I discussed every problem I encountered during my research work. I am also thankful to Dr. Suresh Dahiya whose entrepreneurial mindset taught me time management. He also encouraged me to think about practical issues of life. I remember hour long discussions after the lunch each day with both of them which broadened my capability to think about science and technology.

Above all, I owe a word of thanks to my seniors Dr. Deepak Bharti, Dr. Shilpa Panday, and Dr. Nidhi Sharma for their constant help and care. I am indebted to my colleagues and friends Mr. Adarsh Nigam, Mr. Ishan Varun and Mr. Vijender Bhati for all the fun and lively time we spent together. I am happy to share my fondness with my juniors Amit, Neeraj, Rahul Chauhan, Raj, Abhishek, Jayanta, Atanu, Aman, Vishal and Arun.

At first Jodhpur city appeared to be deserted and difficult to survive but with the company of some good friends I explored Jodhpuri taste of food, royal architecture of city, rich culture and lovely people of Jodhpur. I will keep and cherish all the happy memories during my PhD work for the rest of my life.

I thank my family members, my parents, my wife and my daughter for their unprecedented support and love. Their patience and believes have strengthened my willingness to pursue doctoral degree.

In the end, I thank lord Shree Vishnu, who gave me strength to follow his teachings in his various avatars.

Parveen
P14VSS006

