“Engineering isn’t about perfect solutions; it’s about doing the best you can with limited resources.”

The above quote from Randy Pausch’s ‘The Last Lecture’ somehow summarizes my Ph.D. journey. It has been a long journey with a lot of learning experiences, and it would not have been possible without the help of many people.

First of all, I want to thank my Thesis supervisor, Dr. Kirankumar Hiremath, for introducing me to this phenomenal area of Metamaterials. I would always appreciate the guidance and support I received from him throughout my research work. I want to thank him for believing in me and letting me independently work on the last part of my thesis. It has been a rewarding experience.

I want to thank all my Doctoral committee members, Dr. Ambesh Dixit, Dr. Somnath Ghosh, and Dr. Soumava Mukherjee for their constant support and insightful suggestions.

I want to thank Professor Kumar Vaibhav Srivastava at IIT Kanpur for allowing me to conduct experiments at his lab. I am thankful to all members of the Microwave Metamaterials Lab, Department of Electrical Engineering, IIT Kanpur, especially Mr. Yakeen Tayde and Mr. Mondeep Saikia, for assisting me during the measurements. I am thankful to Dr. Saptarshi Ghosh for his advice and willingness to share resourceful knowledge. I am grateful to my friend Dr. Debdeep Sarkar for the valuable discussions and always being supportive and encouraging.

I am indebted to my sister Pooja Choudhary and my best friend Jyoti Faujdar; it would be extremely hard to imagine my life without their presence. They have been my pillars of strength during the hard times. I am truly blessed to have them in my life. I am endlessly grateful to have Jyoti Faujdar for being my biggest support and someone on whom I can depend. The thesis would not have been possible without her helping me and pushing me to do my best. I thank her for always being patient, supportive, and caring during the stressful moments.

I want to thank Sumit Paliwal for being there whenever I needed him the most. He has been significantly tolerant and supportive throughout the journey. Special thanks to Dipti Trivedi for ushering her love upon us through delicious home-cooked meals, which were the saviors. I am grateful to have you as a friend, a mentor, and a tea partner.

My most profound heartfelt appreciation goes to my friends Kriti Dubey, Abhinav Sharma, Tushar Shinde, Amit Shrivastava, Ankit Agrawal, Saji Vadakkedath, Chandni Kumari and Hargeet Kaur for being part of my journey and always guiding and motivating me to thrive for best. I am deeply grateful to my friends Annu Legha and Neha Shastri for always being such a special friend. As it is said, some relationships do not need daily conversations.

Lastly, but not the least, I want to thank my mother, father, and brother for their constant support and love throughout. Special thanks to my adorable niece, Hanu, who brought me so much happiness in the last few months of my research work. I thank God for blessing me with so many wonderful people in my life.
